Trauma Update 2009

Program Description

This comprehensive program will provide emergency department and critical care nurses, EMT's, paramedics, first responders, and health care professionals involved in the care of trauma patients, with up to the minute -Level-One- Trauma-Center standards of care for trauma patients.

Program Objectives

At the completion of the program, the active participant will be able to:

- Identify the new approaches to resuscitation and priorities in the care of trauma patients.
- Identify special populations of patients and how physiology and resources may affect their care.
- Identify and recognize symptoms of shock in the trauma patient.
- Recognize complications of trauma and discuss the appropriate treatment of the complication.

PCRC AACN

The Pacific Crest Chapter of the American Association of Critical Care Nurses was chartered in 1989 to provide networking, education and collaborative opportunities for critical care nurses in southern Oregon.
